BACKGROUND

Isi brings over 20 years' valuable experience, covering numerous industry and services sectors. His technical, practical and commercial skills have been honed through successful roles as a consultant, project manager, IT manager and CTO. Working both in the UK and overseas, Isi built his expertise on the foundations of a degree in computing followed by considerable commercial exposure.

One of Isi's key strengths is the power of data insight. When combined with his scientific, methodical approach and his deep understanding of technology, this allows him to deliver IT innovation which is sustainable, scalable and well-governed.

SKILLS

Isi's skills include

- Delivering strategic, solution-focussed planning and advice at Board level
- Turning data into insight and initiating digital transformation to drive business forward
- Refocussing IT departments to become revenue generators rather than cost centres
- Providing a valuable combination of technical guidance and team leadership
- Designing individual systems and processes whilst creating whole solutions

EXPERIENCE

Having begun his career as a junior consultant at Oracle, Isi went on to focus on the development of both IT strategy and the teams to support it; actions which enabled sustained business growth.

In his CTO role within Experian he streamlined multiple IT disciplines into one efficient unit capable of delivering data-led solutions for the marketing, sales, compliance and finance functions of the business.
